Fort Worth Stockyards Announces Special Sale October 27

Fort Worth, Texas-The Fort Worth Stockyards has announced a series of Special Stocker-Feeder Shows and Sales to be held in 1983. The sales will be held the last Thursday each month thru October and the final sale will be held November 17, 1983.

Judging of show cattle will begin at 7:00 a.m. on show and sale days and odd lots will start selling at 9:00 a.m. Price winners will begin selling at 10:00 a.m. There will be show classes for Hereford steers and heifers, Angus steers and heifers, and crossbred and exotic steers and heifers. Steer and heifer classes are shown in lots of 10-19 head and 20 head and more. Bulls may be shown with steer classes. These special shows and sales have been held for many years at the Fort Worth Stockyards and attract buying power that insures competitive prices for consignors. The sales attract cattle in sufficient numbers and uniform quality for buyers to easily fill their needs. For information and to make con-

Numbers Increase At Oklahoma State Fair Brangus Show

Brangus breeders from Oklahoma, Kansas, and Missouri presented a head line up of Brangus at the Oklahoma State Fair, September 11-1983 at Oklahoma City, OK.

Dr. Charles McPhee, Oklahoma State University, made his way through the classes to find Duke's Cracker, a July 4, 1982 entry of the Brangus, Verona, MO as his grand champion bull. In the grand champion female selection another Missouri signment, Dixie Ma 818 3882, was found to be tops. The entry is owned by Lux Brangus, Ave, MO.

Pecos Lad 109/2 was picked as a reserve grand champion bull. It is jointly owned by Davis Brangus Hillsboro, KS and Flying H Brangus Arkansas City, KS. Richard Reed Lindsay, OK showed his reserve champion senior heifer, Miss Tallma 81 214, to the reserve grand champion female of the show honor.

Tallman Farms, Dibble, OK won a pair of female class with Nan Brang taking top entry in the pair of heifers. DJM Farms received the blue ribbon the Get-of-Sire class.

Tiny Named Brangus Sire Of The Year

Creating much excitement during the 1983 National Brangus Show of Merit, September 24, 1983 at Pomona, CA was the presentation of WBH RSV Titan 23/6 "Tiny" as the 1983 Sire of the Year.

The coveted award is presented annually to a sire whose progeny has accumulated the most show winnings throughout the show season. Only shows approved by the International Brangus Breeders Association (IBBA) are considered with the International Brangus Show, International Brangus Futurity and the National Brangus Show of Merit receiving more emphasis.

Tiny is the fifth sire to receive this award and incidentally, Tiny's sire, Brinks Mac Titan 0/4 "Titan", was the 1982 Sire of the Year. Tiny is out of Ms HY-1 Justana 23/2 "Anna" and was calving on November 1, 1978.

1983 Brangus Sire Of The Year Sells In Brinks January Sale

At no other time in the history of the beef cattle business will so much proven bull power have been offered in one auction. During one afternoon (on January 21) in one sale arena (at Sisterdale, Texas) Brinks Brangus will be presenting more than a dozen bulls whose names will be instantly recognized. Among them is WBH RSV Titan 23/6 (Tlay), recently named 1983 Brangus Sire-of-the-Year.

The 1976 Brinks Mac Titan 6/4 son (Titan) is the first Sire-of-the-Year by a Sire-of-the-Year. Titan won that honor in 1982.

According to Brinks General Manager Glenn Brinkman, the sale will include shares and/or interests in Tiny as well as in his well-known sons Granada of Brinks and Big Foot of Brinks. Other breed leaders Brinks Tremor 198M15, DMA King 060, Brinks Tlan 457P (Tiempo), Brinks Hopi 699K (Signal), Trojan of Brinks and Thunder of Brinks sell as well as 3/4 Blood bulls Changer of Brinks, Lucky 13 of Brinks, Brinks Silver Bravo, Brinks Texacata 698K (Black Box) and Bravo of Brinks.

In addition to the breed's Sire-of-the-Year, the sale includes winners of four International Grand Championships King (1982), Signal (1981) and Tiempo (1979 and 1980). Another bull selling — Tremor — was 1983 Reserve International Grand Champion, standing second to Extra of Brinks, his full brother out of the same embryo flush.

In the same show Tiny's progeny won 12 classes and four division grands or reserves, one grand championship and the get.

The breed's only Triple Crown winners are represented in the sale too. Tiny sired the only female to win the honor, King is the only bull to have won it. And King has set more than show records — he established a breed auction record recently when 1/8 interest sold during the Granada Gala at $481,000 to Pyramid Land & Cattle Co. and Riley Brangus.

In addition to the proven bulls a strong set of two-year-olds and several younger bulls will sell starting at 1 P.M. on Saturday, January 21, 1984, at the Brinks Brangus Sales & Performance Center, Sisterdale, Texas. Information can be obtained by contacting the office at (612) 324-0811.

Santa Circuit

By BUDDY SMITH

The Washington County Fair is one of the oldest and largest county fairs in the state of Texas. Even though the breeding classes are open to the world, it was still dominated by some Washington County residents. On Friday in the open Santa show, Grand Champion female honors went to Rolling M Ranch of Prairie Hill (a suburb of Brenham). Their female is a late Junior Yearling heifer that is owned by Eugene Miller and family. This 208 heifer won this honor from a strong field that represented over 150 entries. On the following Saturday Clay Theek won the Junior show with a heifer he had raised at Mayfair Ranch in Washington County. On the same day Shannon Theek, brother to Clay and son of Jim Theek, Manager of Mayfair Ranch, won a belt buckle for being one of the high point individuals in the judging contest. Congratulations to the Miller's, Theek's and Washington County on a great show.

During the same time as the Washington County Fair, Double Circle Ranch and their guest consignors Haywire Cattle Company had a successful sale. Cattle from the sale went to Arkansas, Georgia, Oklahoma and all over Texas. High selling lot was purchased by Beth and Dennis Drake of Houston for $3800.00. Volume buyer was Ben Alexander, Kenedy, Texas.

Meanwhile back on the Tennessee show scene, Simon Peter Bend's 208 heifer, daughter of "Simon's Hustler" 920, won Grand Champion female honors at Nashville and Memphis. At the Nashville show Grand Champion bull honors went to "Gator Ade" 350, a Senior bull calf by El Colina Ranches "Gator" 350. Also Reserve Grand Champion bull honors went to "Gator Ade's" half brother 300.

Nine Bar, Porter Rodgers Win State Fair Santa Gertrudis Show

Taking the grand champion honors at the 1983 State Fair of Texas Santa Gertrudis Show was Nine Bar Ranch of Hempstead with the bull and on Porter Rodgers Farms, McRae, AR with the female. The bull champion was Nine Bar 1515, the senior champion. The Rodgers female, Miss Rodgers 28/1 was also from the senior division.

Bill Dagen & Sons of Sutherland Springs, TX, won the reserve champion female award with the yearling champion, Dagen's 86/2. The reserve bull award went to King 1388, the reserve senior champion, from King Ranch, Inc., Kingsville, TX.

Winning other bull champions were: calf champion, Christmas 1783, Porter Rodgers Farms; reserve calf champion, 350/2, El Colina Ranches, Walnut Springs, TX; yearling champion, Magnum John Wayne 145/2, Frenaley & Leggett Duncan, OK; reserve yearling champion, Christmas 1783, Porter Rodgers Farms.

Western Heritage Futurity Won By Flowers & Mossy Oaks

In the Western Heritage Santa Gertrudis Futurity held during the 1983 State Fair of Texas in Dallas, Flowers Ranch of Miami, took home the champion female honor and Mossy Oak Ranch of Belville, won the bull title.

The female champion was out of the junior division and the bull came from the senior champion class. Winning the reserve honors were: C 8 Ranch of Riesel, with the reserve senior champion bull and Five Oaks Ranch of Valley Mills, took the reserve female with the senior champion.

Other champions in the futurity were: reserve junior female, Marchman Ranches, Meridian; reserve senior female, Cosgrove Ranches, Coalgate, OK; junior champion bull, Santa Gertrudis, Huntsville; and reserve junior bull, Cloverleaf Farms, Foristell, MO.

Chaparrosa Ranch Sets Date For 9th Sale

The ninth annual "Cowman's Choice" Sale featuring an offering of more than 800 head of Santa Gertrudis cattle, crossbred heifers and Quarter Horses from Chaparrosa Ranch will be held at the headquarters property seven miles west of La Pryor November 7.

The event is the largest of its kind in the Santa Gertrudis breed and the sale of 100 purebred serviceable-age bulls from one herd is unequalled in the purebred Santa Gertrudis business.

Chaparrosa Ranch is owned and operated by the Belton K. Johnson family of San Antonio, Texas.

Also selling will be 100 purebred females: 20 pair, 70 bred heifers and 10 open heifers, many of which could be eligible for special prizes offered in the Pioneer Breeders Sweepstakes Program.

One hundred crossbred heifers representing the blood of a number of different breeds and all safe in calf to Chaparrosa purebred Santa Gertrudis herd bulls will sell.

Six registered Quarter Horses, representing the blood of Chaparrosa stallions that produce superior ranch working horses will also be offered.

A special feature of the sale is free delivery service of all animals purchased.

The sale starts at 12:30 PM at the ranch.

For a sale catalog and additional information write to Chaparrosa Ranch, Box 489, La Pryor, Texas 78872 or call (512) 365-4422.

1984 SGBI Annual Meeting Atlanta, Georgia

The 1984 annual meeting of SGBI, March 22-24, Atlanta, Georgia, will be interesting and informative to purebred and commercial cattlemen alike. The agenda includes seminars, a trade show, a purebred sale, committee meetings, and social activities.

Seminars will cover a broad range of topics, including "Selecting a Herd Sire," "Tax Advantages in Embryo Transfer," "Crossbreeding," "Investments" and many more issues of economic importance to the cattle producer.

The "Proven Products Sale" on Friday evening will offer approximately 40 head of high quality performance proven herd sires and cow-calf pairs.

The worst tempered people I've ever met were people who knew they were wrong.

King Ranch Sale Dedicated To Col. Walter S. Britten

The King Ranch held their annual Santa Gertrudis and Quarter Horse Sale at the ranch near Kingsville, TX on October 13. This thirty-second annual sale was dedicated to Col. Walter S. Britten, who has sold every sale ever held on the King Ranch for these past thirty-two years.

The proceeds of the first heifer sold in the sale are to be used for a scholarship for the study of animal science at Texas A&M University. Replacing Col. Britten as auctioneer for King Ranch will be Col. George Morse.

Twenty-four fillies averaged $9588, eight stallions averaged $27,053, 32 Quarter Horses grossed $446,700 to average $13,959, 6 pairs averaged $8000, 21 two-year-old bred heifers $2590, 6 yearling heifers $4230, 32 female lots grossed $69,500 to average $2173, 2 yearling bulls averaged $12,800, 8 two-year-old bulls $4418 and one eighth semen interest in Vago 638/6 brought $100,000. Forty-two total Santa Gertrudis lots grossed $223,800 to average $5343.

Topping the Santa Gertrudis division of the sale was a one-eighth semen interest in King Ranch herd sire Vago 638/6. This bull is a senior herd sire and the Running W "A" herd. It brought $100,000 going to Fred Kelly of Panama City, Panama.

Ozark Valley Ranch of Mountain Home, AR gave $20,000 to buy their choice of two Macho 2419 sons, King Ranch kept the other to use in their breeding program. Kenneth Hefte of Corpus Christi gave $10,000 for a King 55/0 son.

The first female to sell was the buyer's choice of two King 55/0 daughters. The proceeds of the sale of this animal, which was sold by Col. Britten, were used to start the Col. Britten Foundation. Joe Marchman of Marchman Ranches, Meridian, TX gave $5000 for the heifer and then redonated her to be sold again. Tobin Ranch of Bandera gave $3800 for the heifer the second time with the proceeds of both sales going into the foundation.

Also bringing $5000 was the buyer's choice of two King 55 granddaughters. Ozark Valley Ranch was the buyer.

Auctioneers for this sale were Col. Walter S. Britten and George Morse. Topping the Quarter Horse division was Doc Holliday, a proven stallion from the King Ranch battery. He brought $105,000 going to Mrs. Jane Caldwell Flores of Lafayette, LA.

Jack Phillips of Gladewater, TX gave $28,000 for Senior Cuatro a sorrel stallion by Mr. San Poppy. Another Mr. San Poppy stallion brought $20,000 going to J.A. Wittenburg of Amarillo.

Bob Norris of Colorado Springs, CO gave $20,500 for a Doc Holliday sorrel mare.

Auctioneer for this sale was Gordon Hannagan.

OSU Fertility Study Begins At King Ranch

A nutrition/fertility study, estimating postpartum reproductive performance of Santa Gertrudis cows with Oklahoma State University, began on the King Ranch September 1.

determine the relationships among changes in body weight and condition from calving with the interval from calving to breeding back. Previous studies indicate that the level of nutrition before and after calving has a significant influence on how quickly the cow comes into estrus and that postpartum anestrus is a major cause of open cows at the end of the breeding season.

Approximately 200 Santa Gertrudis cows on the King Ranch, Kingsville, Texas, and L & L Farms, Decatur, Arkansas, will be used in the study. Cattle at each location will be split into two groups, one on the standard ranch nutritional program, the other a high-protein supplement in addition.

Dr. R. P. Wettemann, OSU, will head the research. Dr. Wettemann conducted a similar study of Hereford cows in 1982. Wettemann is assisted by graduate student Chris Baker. The study is being conducted with the full

Singer Beefmaster Sale Will Be Nov. 4 In Three Rivers

The First Singer Beefmaster Production Sale, offering 128 lots, will be held at Palsano Ranch Friday morning, November 4 beginning at 10:00 a.m.

The Singer Seedstock Sale, will feature 80 three-in-ones, pairs, breeds, and open females, and 8 herd sire prospects. The Changer Range Bull Sale to be held following lunch, will offer 60 Changer sired 2 and 3 year old range bulls and herd sire prospects.

The Changer, is the sire of many of the sale cattle, while Amazon, a top producing donor cow, is the dam of 31 lots. The Changer was named a Golden Certified Meat Sire and weaned at 700 pounds under rugged conditions. In a good gain test with 116 contemporaries, he gained an average of 4.94 pounds a day on grass and finished with a 194 Gain Index and a Yearling Index of 123.

Amazon, an eight-year old Herring bred cow, distinguished herself by producing more Beefmasters in less time.

Commodity Marketing, Management Confab Set For Cen-Tex Farmers

Hillsboro - "Farming in 1984 and Beyond" will be the theme of a Farm Commodity Marketing and Management Conference for Central Texas farmers here Oct. 31.

The late afternoon and evening conference will be at Hill Junior College, with registration beginning at 3 p.m., announced Dr. Ashley Lovell of Stephenville, economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

The conference is designed to help farmers make critical management and marketing decisions," notes Lovell. "Areas of interest to both farmers and agribusinessmen will be presented."

A discussion on county production and the role of the Texas Ag Forum, by Charles Parkman with the Texas Power and Light Co. of Waco will kick off the program.

Dr. Ron Knutson, Extension economist in marketing and policy, will discuss farm program considerations in planning for 1984 and beyond.

"Buying and Merchandising Grain from Field to Port" will be another key discussion topic, with the speaker still to be named.

Robert Harp, executive director of the Texas Grain Sorghum Producers Association, will talk about long-range commodity policy and whether such policy is a help or hindrance to farmers.

Discussions on the outlook for grain sorghum, corn, cotton and wheat will be presented by Ed Smith and Dr. Forrest Virginia, Extension economists.

A panel discussion and question-and-answer session involving the program speakers will conclude the conference. Lovell encourages individuals interested in attending the conference to pre-register at their local county Extension office.

SINGER BEEFMASTER BULLS

Changer was chosen as sire for these production bulls because of his proven qualities:

- Size (3 year old weight - over 2700 lbs.)
- Fertility (semen production phenomenal in quantity and motility)
- Disposition (an easy handling, gentle bull)
- Conformation (his ability to pass on his tremendous frame and correctness to his male and female progeny)
- Absence of calving problems (uniform calving weights, 70-75 lbs.)

Whether for crossbreeding or upgrading, you will not find a better selection to choose from.

The Changer Range Bull Sale
60 Changer sired 2-3 year old range bulls, including many herd sire prospects. Ready to work, breeding age bulls. The top of the line in quality and performance, bred to produce better performing crossbred calves and superior replacement females.

Palsano Ranch: Located 10.1 miles west of Three Rivers on Highway 72.

"Beefmaster crosses like this give Bright Hour more leg, more size and more weight. They always outweighed the other calves," says foreman Buddy Browning.

WHEN THE FOREMAN OF BRIGHT HOUR TALKS ABOUT HEAVY CALVES AND GENTLE CATTLE, HE'S TELLING WHY THEY SWITCHED TO BEEFMASTER BULLS. HE HAS 330 OF THEM.

"Beefmasters have by far the best dispositions of any cattle we have used. We haven't had the first bull to fight in the pen," said foreman Buddy Browning of the South Central Florida ranch. "The calves don't stampede in the pens at weaning. They just gentle right down. And we don't have problems with yearlings, either."

"Our herd has really gentled down since we switched to Beefmasters," Browning said.

Bright Hour used their first Beefmaster bulls in 1977-78.

By 1981, they had changed out the entire bull battery to Beefmasters. Today, they run 330 Beefmaster bulls in their commercial herd.

"And the Beefmaster bulls

Buddy Browning, foreman of Bright Hour Ranch

hold up real well even on native pasture. That makes it even better," Browning said.

To get these easy handling cattle that weigh more, grow faster and hold together longer, all you do is switch bulls.

Switch to Beefmasters.

Commodities Comment

WEEK ENDING OCT. 13

The commodity markets continue to be very volatile with sharp price swings being normal. October, historically, is a tough month on the bulls and so far this October has proven to be no exception. Technically, most markets look absolutely terrible. Most chart services and technical analysts have been preaching the "bear side" of the commodity markets for some time now - and so far they've been right.

The bulls are trying for a come-back at the Chicago Board of Trade. The past several weeks have been a classic confrontation between the fundamentalists and the chartists. The fundamentalists are pointing to what they perceive to be a demand bull move in the offering. The chartists argue that grains have peaked and that prices will work to much lower. The current outlook and the direction of grain prices is one of the most interesting I've seen in years.

Early in the week soybeans fell sharply to the $8.20 level based the November option. Beans spent nearly all day 20-25 cents lower only to rally sharply on the close, settling up 6 cents to the day. By weeks end the soybeans hit a week high on heavy professional and commercial buying. This quality buying also spilled over to the wheat and corn plus. Right now the beans look pretty good and higher prices seem possible. At this writing, November wheat closed at $5.87, December corn at $3.27 and December wheat at $3.49.

Livestock prices on the Mercantile Exchange haven't moved much over the past week. Cattle prices fell sharply a couple of weeks ago and the market has not recovered those losses. The hog market hit a 12 week low early in the week, only to rally sharply following the up move in grains. Livestock markets continue at very high levels and that has been a depressant for all markets. The recent weakness for all livestock prices was pretty well expected. The question now is when will prices bottom out and try to work higher? At this writing, December cat-

Feeder Steers: Medium frame no. 1: 300-400 lbs. 58.50-74.50, 400-500 lbs. 55.00-71.00, 500-600 lbs. 59.50-63.50, 600-700 lbs. 57.50-59.25, 700-800 lbs. 56.75-58.50. Heifers: Medium frame no. 1: 200-300 lbs. 56.50-61.50, 300-400 lbs. 54.00-59.00, 400-500 lbs. 52.00-56.50, 500-600 lbs. 51.00-55.50, 600-700 lbs. 51.00-52.50.

With all the negative news staring me in the face, I'm not going to get too bearish on prices. Who knows, maybe we are in a recovery. If so falling unemployment, high feed costs and increased demand by 1984 could give us a bull market in cattle. I'd sure like to see that. How about $90.00 cattle by late 1984 early 1985? Don't laugh - in commodity trading all things are possible. - Jerry Welch, Commodity Specialist, Prudential-Bache Securities, 231 S.

West Texas Red Brangus To Sell October 29

The second annual West Texas Red Brangus Sale will be held Saturday October 29th at the Granbury Reunion Grounds.

One hundred lots of high quality cattle with semen rights available with some lots will be sold. The sale offering is as follows: 1 bull, 40 open cows, 25 bred heifers, and 20 pairs.

According to Sale Manager Ronnie Farrington, "A featured portion of the sale is the Perry Ranches' dispersal of most of its herd."

All sale cattle have been inspected by a screening committee and will be available for inspection all day Friday and Saturday morning.

The sale consignors are: Bobby & Carol Daggs, Sam & Sherry Elrod, Don & Mary Johnson, James & Jill Caldwell, Keith & Sandra Acheson, Wesley Wilson, Billy Young, Carroll & Juana McCoy, Clarence and Allen Reynolds, John Hill, Doug Warden, James & Debbie Pace, Dale & Lorraine McClure, and Jack & Dean Perry.

Everyone is invited to a dinner party hosted by the West Texas Red Brangus Organization at the DeCordova Bend Estates Country Club Friday night. The pre-sale party begins at 6:30 with dinner being served at 7:30.

Lunch will be served at 1:30 Saturday and the sale will begin at 1:00 p.m. Sale headquarters will be the Lake Granbury Motor Inn. For reservations call 817/573-2691. Other accommodations are available at the Classic Inn, 817/573-8874.

Members of the West Texas Red Brangus Organization will pick up buyers arriving at DFW Airport if 24-hour notice is given. Those interested should contact sale committee chairman Sam Elrod for further information.

Hotel personnel will also be available to pick up those arriving at the Granbury Municipal (Cherry Field) airstrip. For further information contact Farrington Livestock at 817/556-5628 or 409/830-1231, or write Box 927, Vinita, OK 74301.

Farmers Union Joins Wheat-Hay Program (CONT. FROM PAGE 1A) the lack of meaningful action by John Black, head of the United States Agriculture Department. "With a flick of his Bic, Secretary Black could release the grain of poor quality as emergency feed stock and help solve many of the problems of those West Texas ranchers," observes Moeller. "But when the Secretary is not now disposed towards helping us voluntarily, the WHEAT-HAY program is our best bet. Not only is this grass roots type action, a neighbor-to-neighbor movement among these farmers and ranchers, but it was put together at a minimal cost to the taxpayer."

Stuph & Thangs (CONT. FROM PAGE 1A) and a synonym game. This was to label a movement or organization with a title of three letters of which spelled out something and became a buzz word as they migrated progressed.

Recent examples are too numerous to list in this space, but anyone who reads TV papers, magazines, or listens to radio or T.V. immediately gets the drift. For instance, Mothers Against Drunk Driving are popularly known as MADD. The National Organization for Women is popularly referred to as NOW.

It would be interesting to know just how many people managed to take a word like Gay for their very own and now that these odd couples are coming out of the closets in droves what was once a happy little three letter word means something entirely different.

Nuclear opponents and peacekeepers of all stripes have coined their own acronym ad infinitum. Any public figure who overlooks the way these word twisters are rewriting the language can get bloodied with speed and incredible fury. For instance, Law Enforcement became a buzz word for police brutality, etc.

All of which reminds us of the remark credited to Arthur Larson, one time Under Secretary of Labor, director of USA and a political theorist in the Eisenhower Administration. He opined: "It must be very comfortable to be an extremist. You don't have to think - just shout." - Ever thine, The Editor.

P.S.: Uncle Dunk figures that if President Reagan is serious about tryin' to win another term he had better get shed of some of the trouble makers closest to him. He had better warn 'em that the next leaker and feudist is gonna be gone, but not forgotten, and fast. Dunk says now that the Texas Public Utilities Commission has cut Bell Telephone's proposed rate hike in half, thanks are back to normal. The utilities usually ask for at least twice as much as they give. peek to get or expect to need, and this gives the Regulators a chance to trim it and tell us pore of consumers what a great job they did for us, and they hope we will sit down and shut up and hope happily ever after! - Thassell, Brothers!

Oilseed production (soybean, cottonseed, peanuts, flaxseed and sunflower combined) is expected to total 47.0 million metric tons, down 32% from last year.

Food grain production (wheat, rye and rice) expected to total 70.5 million metric tons, down 16% from 1982.

Texas October Crop Estimates Indicate Additional Declines

Austin — Texas cotton producers expect to harvest 2.25 million bales this year, down 17% from a year ago, according to figures released by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service. The October estimate is 4% below September and represents the smallest crop since 1946. State Statistician Dennis Findley reported that statewide yield is estimated at 309 pounds per acre, compared with 301 last year.

Although yields in most irrigated stands remain good, dryland fields across the state continue to show the effects of the hot, dry summer weather. Some crop losses are still expected in the Northern High Plains from the freezing temperatures in late September, Findley added.

Texas sorghum production has dropped 49% from last year to 87.8 million hundredweight (cwt.). Harvest is making good progress across the state, and operations on the Northern High Plains have increased following the September freeze.

Corn production is projected at 112.7 million bushels, off 6% from a year ago. Yield, at 98 bushels per acre, is down 7 bu. from 1982.

Rice production along the coast is forecast at 16.3 million cwt., a decrease of 27% from a year earlier. Harvest of the first cutting was complete by the end of September, although damage from Hurricane Alicia will prevent a second cutting in some fields, Findley reported. Yield of the Texas rice crop is expected to total 4,800 pounds, compared with 4,690 a year ago. Peanut production is estimated at 882.5 million pounds, 1% below last year; while soybean production is forecast at 9.3 million bushels, down 62% from last year's record crop.

U.S. production of Upland cotton is forecast at 7.5 million bales, off 37% from last year. Sorghum is down 49% from a year ago to 289.9 million cwt., while corn is forecast at 4.3 million bushels, 49% below last year's record high crop.

Thompson Beefmaster Production Sale October 26

Gene Thompson Beefmasters, which produced or proved such Beefmaster household names as "Ranger," "Ranger's Pride," and "Levi" will hold their annual production sale, October 26, 1983. The sale begins at 1 p.m. at Thompson Rocking T Beefmasters, McNeill, Mississippi.

The sale features about 65 young bulls, including commercial bulls and herd sire prospects. Sons of "Levi" and "Pride" are included. About 14 "Pride" packages are included in the 65 three-in-ones. A "Levi" daughter sale to "Pride" heads the offering of 10 head of heifers. Five open heifers also will along with 12 first cross Beefmaster females with second cross calves at side.

The Thompson sale is scheduled the day before the BBU convention begins in New Orleans. McNeill, Mississippi, is about 60 miles North of New Orleans. The sale headquarters is the Monticello Hotel in New Orleans, also headquarters for the BBU convention.

On Tuesday, October 26, Thompson will host an all day open house and ranch tours. A New Orleans style party sale party will be held at the Monticello beginning at 7 p.m. on Tuesday.

For more information, contact Gene Thompson Beefmasters, P.O. Box 800, McNeill, Mississippi, 39447, (601) 789-1313 or (601) 641-8840 or Thompson Cattle Marketing, Inc., 8603 Crowl, Suite 22, San Antonio, Texas 78201, (512) 829-1680.

Evergreen Mills Shows Off Newly Renovated Facility

Evergreen Mills, Inc. of Ada, Oklahoma held an Open House at their newly renovated Ada plant on Sunday, October 16, 1988. The Open House was attended by Evergreen Dealers, Employees and their families, Suppliers and Members of the Press.

Forty tons of sand was used in sandblasting the exterior of the plant and then over 8,000 gallons of paint was applied to the surface. One thousand gallons of paint was used on the inside to clean and brighten the work areas.

An Employee Lunch Room was constructed, containing tables and benches, a refrigerator with an ice maker, and a microwave oven. Showers and lockers were installed in a room adjacent to the lunch room. The Customer Lounge and the Order Office have been remodeled to better serve Evergreen Customers.

A Quality Control Room was added to insure that Evergreen Customers will continue to receive high quality feed consistently. The Quality Control Supervisor can monitor incoming ingredients, durability of pellets and cubes, fines, salt and urea content of the feeds.

Evergreen Mills, Inc. was founded in 1902 as a flour mill, selling by-products as livestock feeds, switching entirely to the formula feed business in 1955. Evergreen markets feed, hog, poultry, dairy, horse and specialty feeds in Oklahoma, Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana and New Mexico through a network of independent feed and ranch supply dealers.

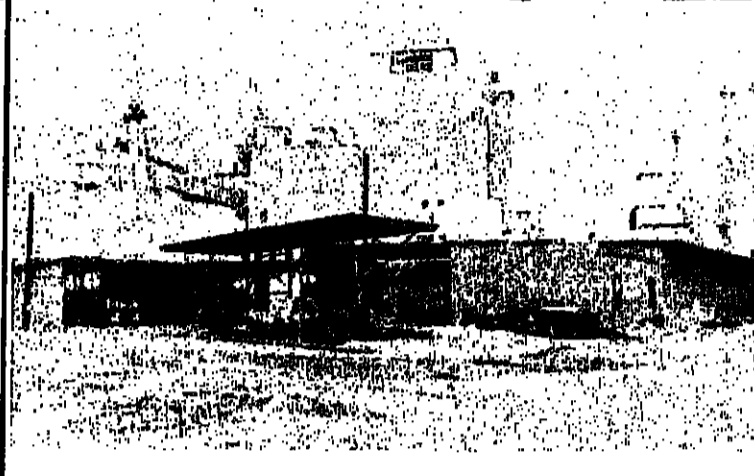

Evergreen Mills, Inc. is a wholly owned subsidiary of Kent Feeds, Inc., Muscatine, Iowa.

Evergreen Mills, Inc. has constructed Quality Control rooms at its plants in Ada and El Reno, Okla. and the Wieser Division plant in Lampasas, Texas.

Quality Control Supervisors at each plant are responsible for implementing the Company's Quality Control program. The Quality Control program insures Evergreen customers they will consistently receive the highest quality feed.

Incoming ingredients, corn, milo, oats and barley, are tested for moisture content, test weight and foreign material. A black light is used to detect mold and contamination. Other incoming ingredients are visually inspected for quality and contamination. Samples are randomly selected and sent to a laboratory for analysis.

Finished feed samples are selected based on a predetermined schedule. Tests are conducted on pellets and cubes to determine the durability when they are handled. Bags are randomly selected and the contents placed on a vibrating screen to determine the percent of fines in a bag. The feeds are also tested for salt and urea content. If any of the feed does not meet specifications, it is not offered for sale. Samples of the feed are kept for 60 days.

Evergreen Mills, Inc. has added a line of Animal Care Products to complement its current line of feeds.

Evergreen, a subsidiary of Kent Feeds, Inc., Muscatine, Iowa, will be handling Kent's Animal Care products at the Ada and El Reno, Oklahoma and Lampasas, Texas plants. There will be twenty items carried initially, including wormers, insecticides and treatments. A complete Horse Care line will be started in the near future. Evergreen will provide the same high quality with prompt service and attention in their animal care items as they have with their feed products in the past.

Winter Pastures Offer Profit

Winter pastures are high quality, are expensive, and offer a potential for profit if managed properly.

Wheat, oats, barley, triticale, rye or ryegrass are all high in protein and digestibility during their vegetative growth period, says M.E. "Gene" Graves Jr., Tarrant County Agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

It's not unusual for the leafy growth of these plants to be 25 percent crude protein and over 65 percent digestible.

Winter pastures are also highly palatable to livestock. With their high quality and acceptability, winter pastures have the potential for a high rate of gain.

Winter pastures are expensive pastures because they have to be planted yearly. Current budgets show from $70 to $110 per acre as the cost of winter pastures, including seed, fertilizer, labor, equipment and land rent. At a sale price of 80 cents per pound of gain, 117 pounds of gain per acre are required to pay the $70 per acre cost while 183 pounds of gain would be needed to repay the $110 cost. Additional gain would be required to pay livestock expenses and any interest charges.

However, winter pastures do show the potential for profit, notes Graves. Stocker calves commonly gain 2 pounds per day on winter pastures. These calves are grown from 400 to 750 pounds on winter pasture. With a constant stocking rate of 1 to 1.5 calves per acre, a profit can be realized.

Using winter pastures for cows call for a different approach, Graves says. Stocking at one cow per acre and continuously grazing would result in a cost of 49 to 69 cents per day per cow. Limit-grazing cows can reduce this cost. By limit-grazing cows for two hours a day with four head per acre, the cost is reduced to 12 to 17 cents per head per day. With limit-grazing, cows get all the protein and mineral needs but do not get an adequate energy supply. So they should have standing dry forage or hay available while off the winter pasture, says Graves.

Winter pastures are extremely useful to livestock producers. They furnish high quality forage that all classes of livestock can use and perform well on. While they are relatively expensive because they require yearly establishment, winter pastures can be profitable to livestock producers willing to manage them effectively according to the type of animal being grazed.

NOTHING CAN hurt a man so deeply as to have his merit completely ignored or his kindness utterly crushed. By the same token, nothing can help his spirit so quickly as sympathetic understanding or appreciative praise.

New Film Available Free For Group Showings

"Supplementing Beef Cattle", a new released videotape, is available for viewing by individual cattlemen or for viewing to groups. It presents a simple, low cost supplementation system that illustrates an economical winter feeding program. Beef cattle nutritionist Dr. Dennis Herd and ranchers Roy Fisher and Don Lesell discuss such topics as:

- The most costly mistakes cattlemen make when supplementing;
- The most critical time of the year nutritionally for the beef cow;
- When supplementation is least likely to pay;

AND CHANGING WELL LEATHERS FOR MANY YEARS

Perma-cups are molded urethane, more wear resistant than nylon. Perma-cups will outlast leathers 10 to 1. Their tapered design allows only 1/8" wear. No, it's not 5/8" of a leather. Much less wear for easier pumping extends cylinder life greatly. Perma-cups must be used in a good or new cylinder, as they do not swell. Install Urethane Perma-cups, Urethane Check-balls, and Urethane Pump Rod-guides, and don't put that well for many years. Thousands are in wells that have not been relined in 9 years! All are available in standard cylinder and pipe sizes. Write or call for our catalog. We ship same day order is received. This is our 33rd year serving ranchers.

Producers Believe in Synchronizing

Beef producers across the country are realizing estrus synchronization programs can benefit their operations. Paul Cobb of Minnato, Nebraska, and John Putney of Gladbrook, Iowa, both agree that using Lutalyse to synchronize the breeding of their cows and heifers has helped them in several ways.

"We first started synchronizing the breeding of some of our cows to cut down on the labor involved in our AI program," says Cobb. "Since we started using Lutalyse in 1980, our breeding time has dropped from 21-27 days to about 11 days spent detecting heat. Our calving season has dropped to about 60 days and we're working on 45 days."

Cobb and his wife, Vicki, handle most of the breeding and calving work for 180 head of registered Charolais cows. To produce quality calf crops, Cobb intended to use the superior genetics offered by AI Cobb, who sells the bulls and keeps the heifers, needed to build and maintain the herd.

"When you look at the figures, my AI calves bring about $800 more than calves from the clean-up bull. That more than pays for the Lutalyse," explains Cobb.

Another benefit that Cobb has seen in synchronization is calf uniformity. "You can run a board across the backs of our Lutalyse calves," Cobb relates. "That's quite an asset to us when we show calves, particularly when you're showing a carload of 15 head that have been born within three or four days of each other."

John Putney, who manages Putney Farms, Ltd., echoes Cobb's feelings about calf crop uniformity from a synchronization program.

"Synchronizing the breeding of the cows we AI really helps group calving so that the calves are more uniform. This makes them more appealing to the buyers who come here to buy club calves," Putney, who owns 300 commercial cows and a small herd of registered Charolais.

In addition to his cattle operation, Putney also farms 1,100 acres. "Our AI season falls during the most crucial time of the spring - when we're in the fields. We needed to get more free time from heat detecting during that season, so we tried synchronizing. It's helped us a great deal in reducing the labor of our Lutalyse calves," Cobb relates. "That's quite an asset to us when we show calves, particularly when you're showing a carload of 15 head that have top steers that are custom collected, using their semen in the breeding of the cows at the farm. Some semen is also purchased off the farm.

Calves not kept as replacements or not sold as club calves are backgrounded after fall weaning and then are sold in March. The uniformity of these calves, due to synchronization, also helps in selling them for a top price.

Cobb sums up the feelings of both beef producers. "The product pays for itself. I figure, why save myself $300 and quit using Lutalyse when it could make me $10,000 to 12,000? It's simple math - even I can figure that out."

Automatic Announces New On-Farm Stationary Mixer

The New Mix-Master from Automatic is a revolving drum mixer designed for efficient on-farm ration formulation according to Jay Jesse. Unique, helical internal flights provide fast, thorough mixing without the separation problems which are common with other mixers.

The Mix-Master is a simple machine with a minimum of moving parts and low power requirements... as little as 5 h.p. for the 100 cu. ft. model which offers 2,000 lb. mixing capacity. There's also a 180 cu. ft. model which handles 3,600 lbs. per load. An optional digital weigher lets you compute rations as you go. Simplicity keeps the price low and operating costs at a minimum.

For further details contact the manufacturer, Automatic Equipment Mfg. Co., Department of NR, Pender, Nebraska 68047, 402-885-5084.

Rumensin Approved For Replacement Heifers

Cattlemen and dairymen can now get replacement heifers into production sooner. The FDA has approved the feeding of Rumensin® to replacement heifers for increased rate of weight gain.

Replacement heifers grew an average of about 10 percent faster when fed 150 to 200 mg. of Rumensin in 10 experiments in eight states. The faster gains resulted from more energy from the ration due to Rumensin.

Aside from reducing feed costs, Rumensin provides other advantages by increasing the growth rate of heifers to reach sexual maturity and ideal breeding weight sooner.

In dairy herds, this means heifers become milk producers earlier. Research also shows that dairy heifers calving at younger ages produce more milk over their lifetime than late-calving heifers.

In beef herds, early sexual maturity and breeding lead to heavier calf weaning weights and easier breed back. Earlier breeding also lets the manager maintain a yearly calving schedule more easily.

Research has demonstrated that Rumensin has no adverse effects on the performance or reproduction of heifers. When fed at three times the recommended level, Rumensin did not affect conception, calving ease, number of live calves born, calf birth weight, milk quality or production.

Rumensin was first approved for use in feedlot cattle in late 1975. It was cleared for use in pasture cattle in 1978. It is not approved for use in milking dairy cows.

More Efficient Milk Homogenization Could Save Sizeable Amounts Of Energy

Milk homogenization which blends the fat into whole milk and prevents it separating out as cream is extremely inefficient with respect to energy use, according to scientists at Texas A&M University.

In high-pressure homogenization, particularly, the fluid product is forced through a narrow slit at very high pressures in order to reduce the size of the fat globules and cause them to disperse in the milk serum, according to Dr. Vincent E. Sweat, professor in food engineering, and a member of the team of researchers who made the study for the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

The homogenizer valve invented by Gaulin in 1988 is still in use today. It was adopted because it gave good results in homogenization of milk.

"However," Sweat says, "since milk fat constitutes only five percent of the total volume of milk and less than five percent of the total weight, we can infer that a process like high-pressure homogenization of milk intended to induce a change in the fat globules only, but which subjects the total milk volume to the same high-pressure, is inefficient."

"We realize that present methods are costly, energywise, and made this study in order to further define the energy efficiency of the homogenization process and consider alternatives and where research may be needed."

"Our review team, which included Dr. Ronald Richter, associate professor in animal science, Larry Gardner, graduate research assistant in agricultural engineering, and Ricardo Castelli, of Lima, Peru, developed several interesting possibilities."

"If there is an indication that milk is over homogenized, at least from the prevention of creaming. An analysis of fat globule rise due to buoyant forces predicts much greater separation than that which actually occurs.

"This would indicate that there is considerable 'anchoring' of interfacial forces between fat globules and milk serum so that it may not be necessary to obtain such small fat globules, as used in the present process. There is a need to better define the potential 'anchoring' forces as a function of fat-globule diameter."

"Also, as mentioned earlier, since fat is only five percent of milk volume, it seems obvious, from the standpoint of energy efficiency, that it would be better to separate the fat before homogenization, and then homogenize the fat and just enough milk serum to surround the fat globules and keep them separate.

"Once this was done, this low volume product could be blended with the remainder of the milk at a much lower expenditure of energy," Sweat concludes.

A HIGH SCHOOL class in music to precision was asked the difference between listening and hearing. At first there was no response. Finally, a hand went up and a youngster offered the wise definition: "Listening is waiting to hear."

Now Is Good Time To Spray Macartney Rose With Grazon

Corpus Christi, Texas - From now right on through December is a good time to treat Macartney rose with the Grazon herbicides in southeastern Texas, provided the rose is in good growing condition.

Macartney rose is a problem for ranchers and farmers from the Coastal Bend to Piney Woods of East Texas. It bleeds more than half a million acres and is spreading.

Texas A&M research directed by Dr. Charles J. Seifert, professor in the Department of Range Science at College Station, has developed an integrated system that combines use of picloram (the active ingredient in the Grazon herbicides), fire and grazing management for rose control.

The system involves first treating Macartney rose with Grazon P+D at one gallon per acre or a mixture of one quart of Grazon PC plus two quarts of 2,4-D per acre.

Grass then is allowed to grow among the dead rose for 18 months, after which grass and dead rose are burned. Finally, the rose is spreading.

10 pounds of Grazon Pellets herbicide per acre are applied to the burned stumps of the roses.

Dr. Wayne Hanselka of Corpus Christi, an extension range specialist, duplicated the A&M integrated system and reported that no rose had returned after five years.

Some landowners prefer to treat rose with Grazon P+D (a ready-mixed picloram and 2,4-D mixture) or a tank mix of Grazon PC and 2,4-D in spring or fall, skip the burn and spray the rose the second time the following year. The second spraying usually takes care of any reinfestation that follows the first treatment.

Dr. J.B. Grumbles, Dow Chemical herbicide specialist in Dallas, said it sometimes takes three sprayings to achieve optimum control, which can run as high as 95 percent.

Touchup sprayings or treatment with Grazon 10K Pellets will then insure that occasional plants springing up in bird or animal droppings do not get out of hand.

Clay Introduces New Manure Transfer Pump

A manure transfer pump has been added to the line of manure handling products manufactured by Clay Equipment Corporation.

The new manure pump is designed to pump liquid manure from a reception pit to a lagoon or to in-ground or above-ground storage.

The pump is designed to be used in 10 ft. deep pits but can be used in 8 ft. pits with a 2 ft. sump. This direct drive, 1,725 rpm transfer pump has a water tested capacity of 750 gallons per minute and is designed to be used with a 15 hp electric motor (not included).

According to Clay, the manure transfer pump is available with the following options:

1. A Discharge Package for pumping from a reception pit to a long term holding facility.
2. A Load Out Package which allows the manure to be diverted into a fill tube to load a liquid manure tank.
3. A Pit Valve assembly which features a back flow valve and an exit to pit valve, both with above ground controls.
4. A Base-and-Winch is available for stationary mounting and provides for raising and lowering the unit in the pit.

In addition to the transfer pump, Clay Equipment Corporation manufactures and markets a complete line of liquid and solid manure handling equipment as well as swine, dairy, forage and grain handling products.

For more information on the Clay transfer pump or any of the Clay products contact Jerry Youde, Advertising Manager, Clay Equipment Corporation, Box 729, Cedar Falls, Iowa 50613 (819) 268-0478.

Forage Balancer Concept Simplifies Supplement Selection

Richardson, TX - Selecting the most effective and efficient method for supplementing forage deficiencies doesn't require a degree in animal nutrition, says Guy Echols of Echols Farm Store in Richardson. "Nor does a cattleman have to rely on guesswork," he added.

"We now have available an entirely new concept that eliminates this guesswork and simplifies the selection of supplements, based on 25 years of beef cattle research by Ralston Purina Company," Echols explained.

"The new line of supplements, called Forage Balancer Feeding System has been formulated to balance exactly forage types conditions that exist in all cattle areas across the country," he continued.

Forage Balancer products, he continued, contain the supplement that is specially formulated to balance the deficiencies of this forage. "What's more this supplement is available in the producer's preferred feeding form - block, liquid, meal or cubes," he added.

Forage Balancer, he noted, is the only product line available that provides this assurance to cattlemen. "Only now can producers confidently choose a supplement to keep their brood cows in condition without wasting their money on nutrients they don't need. And that means greater assurance of a calf per cow per year at the lowest possible cost."

More information on the Forage Balancer concept is available at the feed store, he concluded, encouraging cattlemen to drop in to discuss this "exciting new idea."

New Protein Extraction Machines Ready For Commercial, Farm Use

This machinery is slightly ahead of its time.

The machinery can extract edible protein from alfalfa, birdfoot trefoil, small grains, bluegrass, bromegrass, carrot tops, edible pea vines, sweet corn residue, and most other lush green plants...even lake weeds.

"It's an investment in the future," says Richard Straub, agricultural engineer with the University of Wisconsin-Madison. The investment will make sure that protein will be available when needed.

The process also will open new markets and increase farm income.

UW Agricultural engineers have put the finishing touches on equipment which macerates and presses green plants. The high-protein juice is then processed for use in livestock or human diets.

The pressed forage is fed to livestock while the remaining "brown juice" is used as fertilizer.

The lighter and more energy-efficient models which the engineers developed incorporate a ring die macerator similar to a pelleting mill and a cone press. The equipment weighs less than 10,000 pounds, not excessively heavy for farm equipment. A typical self-propelled combine weighs almost 25,000 pounds.

Commercially available presses designed for use in the pharmaceutical or food industry were expensive and had limited uses, Straub notes.

"It's really a totally new technology which also requires a different management system. Farmers will take some time to get used to the complex juice-processing system, but the idea is valid," says Straub.

The payback period depends on the price of soybean meal, the most common source of protein in livestock diets. Currently, ample supplies of feed have dampened interest in the system, even though studies show the system is "very competitive" when soybean meal prices are high.

"Weather data indicates that farmers using the system would not have to purchase any protein in eight of 10 years. In addition to harvesting more plant protein, farmers can make more efficient use of plant protein by 'diverting' protein from animals that don't need it to those that do," Straub says.

More than 10 years of research have resulted in a system which UW engineers think is ready for commercial development, either as large-scale plants or on-farm units. Several implement manufacturers have expressed interest, although one manufacturer's efforts to develop a model for on-farm use was a casualty of the recession.

There are large-scale forage-processing plants in northern Europe, France, Russia and Czechoslovakia. The only commercial U.S. plant is located in Colorado.

Waste is reduced and yields increased because plants can be harvested at the optimum time, regardless of weather. The protein should open new markets for alfalfa and other crops, either as livestock feed or in human diets. Planting forages instead of row crops will also curb soil erosion.

UW researchers now supply small-scale models for a Mexican village, part of a pilot project to utilize the protein in human diets.

The research is now "winding down," except that involving methods of handling and processing the high-protein juice.

Three New Products For Swine Dysentery Program

St. Louis, Missouri — Three new products from Ralston Purina's Health Products Division have been introduced and incorporated into a complete swine dysentery (bloody scours) treatment and control program.

Purina® Chek-R-Scour® Soluble Powder dysentery treatment is positioned as the first line attack against this fast-spreading, herd-declimating disease. The lincomycin hydrochloride active product is water soluble to treat even off-feed pigs, as speed is of the essence in this rapidly debilitating disease. Purina Chek-R-Scour Soluble Powder is available in a 40-gram packet which medicates 64 gallons of drinking water or approximately 105/40 lb. feeder pigs depending on water consumption.

The next important product in the program is Purina® Chek-R-Scour® Plus antibiotic medicated feed pre-mix. It continues the lincomycin hydrochloride, but also has additional vitamins and minerals and lysine supplements to restore needed levels to hogs whose intestinal systems are not capable of adequate absorption for maximum recovery. Purina Chek-R-Scour plus is manufactured in 40 lb. bags. Treatment level is one bag added to one ton of feed. Treatment period is for three weeks.

The last product in the Purina Program is Purina® Chek-R-Ton® LI Medicated feed additive. Purina Chek-R-Ton LI provides an ongoing control against recurrences which are common to this disease. Purina Chek-R-Ton LI is fed until six days before slaughter. It is available in a 5 lb. bag which replaces 5 lbs. of grain in making a ton of feed to provide recommended control levels.

The entire treatment and control program with Purina products to carry out each phase are presented in a new hand-out brochure which is available to the public. It is titled "Purina Swine Dysentery Treatment and Control Program."

All three new products and the information brochure are available from Purina Dealers nationwide.

There are 2.4 million farmers in America. That's only 1 percent of the U.S. population. But that one out of 100 affects the lives of the other 99 in many very important ways.

One serious problem facing the pulp and paper industry is what to do with the dark-colored wastewater which results when wood pulp is bleached. This wastewater can have a detrimental effect on rivers and streams and even though chemical processes which can clean the water are available, they are extremely expensive. Forest Service researchers have found a new, expensive, biological way to clean the water. What they discovered is a type of fungi which degrades lignin, a major wood component which gives water a dark color.

Save Labor, Time Supplementing Pasture Cattle

Cattlemen can now feed Rumensin® to pasture cattle on alternate days rather than every day. The new FDA approval can save cattlemen both time and labor costs.

In five experiments in which equal energy rations and various Rumensin levels were fed daily and on alternate days, results were essentially the same.

Rumensin fed daily at the recommended 200 mg. per head increased average daily gains by 14.2 percent over control cattle. Cattle fed up to 100 mg. of Rumensin per head per day for the first five days, then fed on alternate days at the recommended 400 mg. per head increased average daily gains by 15 percent over controls. University studies also showed alternate day supplement feeding did not affect cattle's grazing time. Rumensin, when fed to pasture cattle, increases available energy allowing animals to gain more rapidly. Rumensin was first marketed for feedlot cattle in late 1976 and has been used in pasture cattle since 1978.

NEWS about LIMOUSIN

Texs Ranger El Presidente Takes Champion at State Fair

Texs Ranger El Presidente, owned by Floyd McGown, New Braunfels, Texas, and JCL Cattle Co., Welch, Oklahoma, was named champion Limousin bull of the 1983 State Fair of Texas, October 14 in Dallas. The reserve champion was the junior champion, Lonestar, owned by the Lonestar Partnership of Norman, Oklahoma.

In the female show, Timothy Linthicum, Welch, Oklahoma, took home the championship with Texs Star Gypsy, the senior champion. The reserve female came from the junior division, MK Black Hanni, owned by McKown Limousin, Norman, Oklahoma.

Other champion winners in the State Fair Show were: reserve junior bull, Texs Ranger Cruiser, JCL Cattle Co.; reserve senior bull, Captain in Command, Captain in Command Partnership, Norman, Oklahoma; reserve junior female, Texs Star Luv, JCL Cattle Co.; and reserve senior female, Phasant Hill Lass, Brian Bingham, Justin, Texas.

Other class winners were: Miss BR Fabulense, Baker Limousin, McKinney, TX; KC Gig, Clear Creek & Lpp Inc., Kansas City, MO; Lazy J Cherish, Russell McCordy, Red Oak, TX; Miss MK Jennifer, McKown Limousin; and Miss MK Picture Girl, Rio Grande Childrens Home, Mission, TX.

Winners of the group classes in the Limousin show were: pair of bulls, JCL Cattle Co.; pair of females, JCL Cattle Co.; and best five head, JCL Cattle Co.

McCollem Limousin Averages $1025

McCollem Ranch Limousin Production Sale, September 30 in Hobart, OK, averaged $1025 on 64 lots of cattle. Eighteen purebred pairs averaged $1238, 18 3/4 pairs $1179, four 1/2 blood pairs $768, nine purebred breds $890, six open purebreds $566, and nine bulls $565.

Top selling lot was a 1980 black polled cow with a March 1983 black heifer calf at side and rebred. The cow went to Toby Preston of Temple, TX, at $825 with the calf bringing $900 from Black Jack Cattle Co., Chattanooga, OK.

The sale was managed by American Cattle Services, and Sonny Booth was the auctioneer.

Farm Prices Dip During September

Prices Received by Farmers dropped 2 points (1.4 pct.) from August to 197 pct. of their January - December 1977 average.

Lower prices for oranges, cattle, hogs and potatoes contributed most to the decline. Higher prices for soybeans, lettuce and apples were partially offsetting.

Oranges dropped from $6.07 to $1.49 per box; best cattle prices fell $1.90 per cwt. to $52.20, the lowest since December 1981. Hog prices fell $2.50 per cwt. to $44.40 and potato prices fell $1.40 per cwt. to $5.77.

On the other side of the coin, soybeans advanced 89 cents to $5.48 per bu.; lettuce from $11.20 to $14.50 per cwt.; and apples from 14.4 cents to 18 cents per lb. The Index was 1 point (71.0 of 1 pct.) above a year earlier.

Meanwhile, the Index of Prices Paid by farmers also rose 1 point (81.0 of 1 pct.) to a record high 161. It was 4 points (2 1/2 pct.) above a year earlier.

With Prices Received down and Prices Paid up, the Ratio of Prices Received to Prices Paid declined 2 points to 86, it had stood at 87 a year ago.

Under the old 1910-14 formulas, Prices Received declined 6 points to 628, Prices Paid advanced 4 points to 1,108; and the Parity Ratio declined 1 point to 56. It had stood at 58 a year ago. (Agricultural Prices).

Texas Grain Sorghum Movement Is Slow

Austin, Oct. 18 (F-P) - Corpus Christi area Grain Sorghum (Counties of Live Oak, Bee, Nueces, San Patricio, and Refugio). Comments: farmer selling remains light as lower prices have forced producers to hold on to their grain. Demand by exporters continues to be rather limited. As one export elevator remains closed and the other is working primarily on wheat. The trade has indicated possible renewed export activity in the next ten days to two weeks as mills are now being booked. Prices range to the farmer FOB elevator as of 11:40 a.m. Oct. 18, 1983 is $5.50-5.61 per Oct. #2 Grain Sorghum.

Central Texas area Grain Sorghum: (Counties of Hill, McLennan, Falls, Bell, Milam, Williamson). Comments: market activity remains slow with farmers working on field preparation, planting and fertilizing of small winter grain crops. Both domestic and export buying of Grain Sorghum continue on the light side. Prices this week are holding about steady to trending slightly lower than those of the week ago. Prices range to the farmer FOB elevator as of 11:40 a.m. Oct. 18, 1983 is $5.15-5.26 mostly $5.15-5.20 per Cwt. #2 Grain Sorghum.

West Kansas Feedlots

Dodge City, Oct. 14 (USDA) - Slaughter steers and heifers steady to mostly 50 lower. Most feedlots are current, very few choice cattle will be carried into next week. Most feedlots expect to have less cattle on their showlots next week than this. A larger volume of heifers traded than steers this week, only the third weekly period where heifers sold than steers.

Steers 19,400; throughout the period, choice 2-4, mostly 3 1050-1250 lbs. 60.00-61.50, mostly 61.00; choices with and good 58.50-61.00, mostly 60.00-60.50 and lots 60.00-60.75, few 1175-1200 lb. Holsteins 54.00-54.50. Heifers 20,500; throughout the period, choice 2-4, mostly 3 950-1100 lbs. 58.25-59.50, mostly 58.50-59.50; choices with end good 58.00-58.50; few choices with end commercial and good heifers and heifersteers 58.50 late.

Fort Worth Show Entertainers Set

The 22 performances of the World's Original Indoor Rodeo, scheduled Jan. 25 through Feb. 5 in Fort Worth's Will Rogers Coliseum in conjunction with the 1984 Southwestern Exposition and Fair Stock Show, will feature a variety of entertainment acts, reports W.K. Watt, Jr., Stock Show president/manager.

"We have scheduled, in addition to what has been described as the best rodeo of the year, a variety of featured acts planned for outstanding family entertainment," Watt said.

"Nothing like it anywhere" is the theme of this year's production, and Watt has assured visitors that the lineup of special entertainment will be "just that." He said two internationally known acts have been signed, and more are in the making.

In the lineup will be Mr. Rythm, "The Wonder Horse," from Sedalla, Mo. Trainer and owner Darrel Wallen refers to this American Saddlebred Horse as a "once in a lifetime find."

Appearing for the first time in Texas will be the Ellerman family from Alturas, Calif., with a fast action variety of trick and fancy riding routines billed as the Flying Cougars.

The physical beauty of Mr. Rythm is coupled with a dazzling performance of more than 50 different dance steps, and he is believed to be the only horse in the world that will canter backwards. He has been featured across the U.S. and Canada.

Wallen obtained the 14-year-old animal 12 years ago to train as a Saddlebred show horse, but Mr. Rythm quickly showed the trainer he was more interested in "showing off."

"After a while, I decided to let him do

M.F. Maxim Plus 681, owned by Ed Pruett Moffet Farm and Earl Glidden, Decatur, IL, was the champion Polled Hereford bull of the 1983 State Fair of Texas.

Three Of Four State Fair Polled Hereford Champions From Texas
Three out of the four champions of the 1983 State Fair of Texas Polled Hereford Show in Dallas were Texas exhibitors. The lone out of state winner was M.F. Maxim Plus 681, owned by Ed Pruett Moffet Farm and Earl Glidden, Decatur, IL, who took home the champion bull award. Reserve champion bull was Boss 8th 86N, the reserve senior champion, owned by Boss Polled Herefords, Hamilton.

In the female champions, judge Jake White of Colorado Springs, CO, chose KLC PHF Klondike Lady 469, owned by Pharris Hereford Farm of Hillsboro, for the champion female. The champion was out of the calf division. Reserve champion was MAF Lady Gliden 113, exhibited by JBS Polled Herefords, May Four Farm, and Jon & Laroyce Coy. She was the senior champion.

Other champion honors in the State Fair show were: reserve heifer calf, QRR Vioforest, Quail Run Ranch, Walnut Springs; junior champion female, HHR Mia Muchmore P7, Doug & Barbara Walraven, JBS Polled Herefords, and Jon and Laroyce Coy; reserve junior females, HPH Mystick Lady 67K, Hubbard Herefords, and Cordell Herefords; Sagmay Sereas 7K, Penny Farrington, Abilene; bull calf champion, PHF CHG Checkmate 18P.

Donato D. Ramos had the third high seller of the day in a buyers choice of QF Victoria or her 1982 heifer calf. Rockhollow Farms took the cow at $2000 and Goodman Farms the calf at $2000.

Topping the bull offering was a 3/4 interest and full possession in a bull calf that went to Farrington Polled Hereford of Abilene for $8000.

The sale was managed by the Texas Polled Hereford Association and Jim Birdwell was the auctioneer.

the American Angus Association headquarters building and a special dinner and program that evening, plus the Angus Horizons Conference, painted a picture of the events and people that have shaped the American Angus Association over the past 100 years. He concluded with an on-stage introduction of most of the living past presidents and executive officers of the Association.

Another highlight of the opening was the world premier showing of the new American Angus Association motion picture, "The Good Life - Breeding Registered Angus." The 17 minute film, recently named "Best of Show" in a contest sponsored by the Communicators of Mid America, tells what it is like to be a breeder of registered Angus cattle.

Five of the nation's top beef cattle experts rounded out the rest of the Horizons Conference program. Dr. Robert Long, Texas Tech University, Lubbock, challenged cattle breeders to forget terms like "elevation," "length," "profile," and the like, and to objectively measure cattle to determine which possess superior genetic traits. "Don't change (your Angus cattle) too much," Long told the group, "Keep selecting for reproduction efficiency, growth rate, composition (and) longevity."

Oliver Hansen of the Liberty Trust and Savings Bank in Durant, Iowa, presented "A Banker's Position in a Changing Economy." Hansen did not paint a rosy economic picture. "Bank deregulation, growing federal deficits, and high interest rates spell trouble for the future for many people," he said.

"The farm economy is in better shape than many suspect, though," Hansen pointed out. "Half of the farm debt is owned by only 14% of the farmers. For what does that mean? The Iowa banker asked. "It means that most of our people in agriculture are on very solid footing but the 14% who own half the debt on the ones who have the problem. We are the ones who will need good cash flow in order to meet their obligations. More credit is not necessarily the answer. There will be some liquidation. If your neighbor has to liquidate, let's criticize him for mistakes. Look upon as something that could have happened to you if you had made a wrong judgment call."

"The only reason why we may need to get our cattle a little bigger is to make the carcass requirements for bone beef," Dr. Danny Fox, Cornell University, Ithaca, New York, told the Angus breeders at the Horizons Conference. Size, Fox indicated, has little to do with production efficiency in beef cattle. On the other hand, Fox stressed, fertility is the one trait most directly related to profitability.

If size and growth rate alone do not necessarily indicate improved efficiency, then how do we select the cost efficient animals? The answer is simple, according to the Cornell scientist and active cattle producer. "For cattle of the same mature size, you figure out which one will grow the fastest. It is that simple."

Fox also urged the cattle industry to move toward breeding cattle that is given feed supply - cattle that are able to efficiently use a given forage supply. A cow that averages 24 pounds of milk a day during lactation needs forage that averages 80% TDN. "So, if you have grass out there with only 60% TDN you'd better have cows that give less milk, so they will breed back."

"I am convinced that for the present and for sometime in the future, the market will seek finished steers with the following specifications," said Dr. Bill Hillier, manager of Masters Feedlot in Garden City, Kansas. He listed these specifications as (1) weight, 1,050 to 1,250 lbs.; (2) quality grade, low choice; (3) yield grade 3 and 4 with little if any premium for yield grade 1; (4) rib finish should not exceed .8 to 1 inch; (5) trimmable fat from kidney, heart and pelvic area, must be reduced to a minimum; and (6) rib eye area should exceed 2 to 2.25 square inches per cwt. of carcass.

"The cattle we buy will normally have at least 80% to 90% black," said Hillier, who is in charge of an operation that turns out a quarter of a million finished steers a year. "Why? Because they help us sell a pen-black as a rule sell better."

Hillier urged cattlemen to breed and crossbreed cattle more intelligently. "Hybrid vigor obtained from crossing high performance cattle is what we need, not indiscriminate crossing of inferior cattle, done under the guise of improving hybrid vigor and thus profits. We sell pounds and quality," Hillier stressed. "When crossbreeding results in more pounds gained economically, we are for it strongly, but we see so many instances where crossbreeding results only in mongrelization."

"Height in and by itself is not a good measure of performance. We still have some 'shortcomings' coming into the feedlot, and the industry needs to move away from them as quickly as possible. On the other hand, there is no place in our business for the excessively tall, lanky steer being featured in the show ring today."

How to Prosper In 2nd 100 Years Is Angus Meeting Topic

What does the next 100 years hold for the Angus breed and the beef cattle business? The awesome task of answering this question will be tackled by a panel of five experts in the Angus Open Committee meeting set for Sunday, November 13, at the North American International Livestock Exposition in Louisville, Kentucky.

Is it really a jungle out there in the cattle industry? Marilyn Carlson, Lodgepole, Nebraska, will provide some insight. His topic is "Survival of the Fittest - Commercial and Feedlot Outlook." Carlson is well qualified to address this topic. A past president of the National Cattlemen's Association, he is also a commercial cattleman and feedlot operator.

The kind of performance programs needed for the late 20th and the 21st century will be discussed by Dave Nichols, registered cattle breeder from Bridgewater, Iowa. The title of his talk will be "Performance-Where to From Here?"

Jim Bairbridge, auctioneer and Angus breeder will evaluate "Marketing In The Future." In an age that is sure to see in-

(CONT. FROM PAGE 12B) population are seedstock that possess the traits to move the industry forward. This puts... a tremendous responsibility on producers such as yourselves," Hillier concluded. "We as feeders are anxious to buy the results of your improvements."

"Stop being just Angus breeders and become a really active, really involved member of this great American beef industry," Dave Pingrey, Black Bull Cattle Company, Benton, Mississippi, told the group of Angus breeders assembled at the Horizons Conference. Pingrey, a past president of the American Angus Association, said, "... your challenge now as American beef producers is to invest the same effort (you invest in your Angus business) and the American Angus Association to help establish and maintain the direction and guidance of the overall beef industry. Join your state and national cattle organizations," he urged, "and be a part of the working force that sets policies and fights battles."

Pingrey, who spoke on, "Here's Your Challenge Mr. Breeder," issued three challenges to the Angus breeders in the audience. One, maintain the quality image of beef. Two, expand the Certified Angus Beef Program, and three, understand the grass roots reasons why the Angus cow is the standard of the beef industry. Then he stressed the traits in the Angus breed needed to keep her there.

"If we do these things and do them to the limit of our capacity, I can dream ahead to a hundred years from today," Pingrey said, "and do you know what we are going to find at the bi-centennial celebration? We are going to find our national beef market with two qualities of beef - Certified Angus Beef, and an overall house brand. And the nation's best cattle population! That's simple. It is going to be Angus and minor breeds."

The State of Washington produces 25 million bushels of apples each year.

ON FRIDAY, OCTOBER 28, 1983
1:00 P.M.
All bulls will be presented to a team of veterinarians who will sift them for structural soundness.

The weight-per-day-of-age will be calculated on each bull and each bull will be individually graded by a group of commercial cattlemen.

To be eligible to sell, a bull must receive a grade of at least 86 out of a possible 100.

A champion from each breed will be selected and an overall
"Super" bull will be chosen from the breed champions.

A champion pen of F-1 heifers will be selected by a group of commercial cattlemen.

THE PUBLIC IS INVITED TO

A "little ear" on feeder calves has become an important marketing factor in recent years.

Some feeders are demanding that their order buyers select calves with some Brahman in their genetic make-up.

We think one of the best tools available to put a "little ear" on your feeder calves is to turn out a Beefmaster bull.

Contact the N.B.A. for a list of breeders who have breeding age Beefmaster bulls for sale.

Calves On Display At First Preconditioned Calf Sale Oct. 27 At Ft. Worth

You can see many of the calves as a Live Demonstration of the First Preconditioned Calf Sale at the Fort Worth Stockyards in Pen No. 131. This first Certified Preconditioned Calf Sale will be held in conjunction with the special Stocker-Feeder Sale at the Stockyards on Thursday October 27. This will be the first sale of this kind in Texas.

The Certified Preconditioning Program is being promoted by Purina and its dealers throughout the country. Cattlemen are benefiting greatly from this program in terms of up to 80 lbs. per head weight gains and a reduced mortality rate of 80 to 90%. Cattle buyers have been paying more for the Preconditioned Calves because they are certified by the seller to be weaned and

Final Plans Set For Fall All Breeds Bull Sale In Sealy

Final plans have been set for the Gulf Coast All Breeds Fall Bull Sale to be held at the Port City Stockyards in Sealy, Texas on October 29, 1983 at 1:00 P.M. Over 35 breeders of purebred cattle have consigned 160 bulls, representing 14 different breeds, to the sale.

These bulls will be arriving at Port City Stockyards on Thursday evening, October 27th. On Friday, October 28th, at 1:00 P.M., the bulls will be graded using the CBGA Grading system that was used at our spring bull sale. The judges for this sale will include cattlemen, cattle breeders, and livestock specialists. The bulls must score at least 86.0 from a possible 100 to sell in the sale on Saturday. The public is welcome to attend the grading on Friday.

AT THE FARM - RENSSELAER, INDIANA
12:00 NOON C.S.T.

LOCATION: This Sale will be held at the Waukaru Main Farm at Rensselaer, Indiana. The farm is located 8 miles east of Rensselaer, then 2 miles south. From the Sale Headquarters, go 4 miles north on Route 231, then 7 miles east on Route 16, then 3 miles north. Follow the signs.

This will be a sale of 90 LOTS of outstanding Shorthorn and Polled Shorthorn cattle from the Waukaru Herd with guest consignments from Rexlaine Farms of Linden, Indiana.

Selling will be a tremendous group of females from the foundation of each of these leading herds. They sell bred to herd sires that for years have been leaders in all aspects of the Shorthorn industry from the show ring to the feed lot. Many of these females will have at side bull and heifer calves that will be outstanding individuals in their own right.

SPECIAL SALE ATTRACTION: The offering of heifer and steer show prospects that are among the finest to be offered anywhere in North America this year. These calves will be winners against the toughest of competition.

Hereford Futurity
Purse $17,000

Kansas City — The $17,000 purse to the Kansas City Hereford Futurity will be the largest prize in any class at the 1983 American Royal Livestock Show. Fifteen of the nation's finest March and April, 1982, born yearlings will be competing for the big prize.

The Kansas City Hereford Futurity purse was reached when breeders invested in three nomination fees with the total money to be dispersed to the high line placings. The winning bull will gather more than $6,000 in winnings.

A three-man committee will judge the Futurity bulls on Sunday, November 6, at 2:00 p.m. in the American Royal Arena.

Hereford activities at the American Royal are scheduled from November 6-8. Other activities are the annual meetings of the American Hereford Association, American Hereford Futurity and American Junior and Heifer shows, the Royal Claim Heifer Show and Sale, the $15,000 Bud Shuler Register of Merit Show, and an industry update on the newly announced Genetic Identification System.

ECC Move On Beef Seen As Progress

Washington, Oct. 13 — The Foreign Agricultural Service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture today reported the following developments in world agriculture and trade:
The European Community Council approved opening the 1984 "High Quality Beef Quota" (HQB) during its September 26-27 meeting. This quota includes 10,000 metric tons of HQB that may be imported from the United States. In previous years this approval has not been granted until after the new marketing year began in January. The regulation concerning this council decision also moves to set up a system for use of the quota based on presentation of a certificate of authenticity. However, all the details have not been worked out. This may be a step toward a more routine functioning of the quota procedure that the United States has urged for some time.

BULLS — COW/CALF PAIRS — SPRING, SUMMER AND FALL CALVERS BRED HEIFERS — SHOW HEIFERS AND STEER PROSPECTS

Polled Shorthorns: Maternal easy calving, gentle beef cattle that are efficient and grade choice on a high roughage ration. Their economics are a must for the maternal end of a crossbreeding program. The rush is already on all over the country to the big, red, white, and roan gentle giants. There has never been a more opportune time to get into the business.
